

The danger's demon dragon

Once there lived a dragon in the deep deep woods. Many and many have tried destroying the dangerous demon dragon of the orchard of doom. Until a man called Martin came and said “I will kill the dragon who ate all of the people of the village and our good crops.

He went deep into the orchard of doom. Quickly he saw the dragon and without the dragon noticing or hearing him he hid very fast behind a tree. He got his remote control net out and he through it up into the air and landed on the ground by the dragon. Then the dragon turned around quickly, and noticed a man picking up his net and running rapidly.

The dragon took off to the sky to beat the man and land and try to eat the him. But the man still kept running. He turned around and got a spear out of the backpack and threw it at the dragon.

The End