

Godzilla returns a bunny girl comic

In the future a dragon egg will hatch and scare the people of the church as a massive sheet of slime fell on top of them. They all shouted aggh, help and who will save us now. A man said, "Call bunny girl she'll save us!"

Bunny girl was born with bunny like super powers. She loved animals especially bunnies. She was the only hero left alive, or should I say heroine.

Although it was only a baby dragon when bunny girl got there she thought it was a big problem. It was very powerful and not at full power yet. She wondered how she was going to defeat the monster. She bounced up to the dragon as he let out a roar that turns you younger than you really are.

She looked at herself and thought, "..... He turned me in into a kid, how dare he do that to me!" When she thought that she kicked him in the jaw.

As the dragon was about to roar she screamed as loud as she could, "Yaaaaaaaah take that you monstrosity!"

It was a miracle. She had hit the dragon at the right time and she had killed the monster.

Everyone started to celebrate. That night everyone had a party for bunny girl. She was not paying attention; she only thought, "I am back to normal at last." Lots of people were saying things like, "That was a Godzilla!" and "Bunnies rule so cool!"
