

THE ROCKER

Once there was a dragon. He was the most poisonous and most deadly dragon in the whole land. He had a ball of poisonous spikes on his tail. He lived in the deepest darkest, most disgusting, deadliest, dampest and most dangerous cave in the world. No cave is as dark or deep as this one and he only came out at night.

People, slayers and knights, everyone came to try and kill the dragon. But none who came ever came out because the dragon was so deadly and poisonous, so the king was stuck.

At the same time a man called Tom. who was tough, strong, sporty and very good at guitar arrived in town. One day Tom decided to take on the dragon, so he added a special feature to his guitar. It made invisible sound wave and it killed every living thing in its path. He set off at the crack of dawn to slay the dragon. It didn't take him long to find the dragon. In fact the it found him!

Tom could hardly pick up the guitar because he was so scared, so he ran away. The next night Tom saw the dragon in the woods. This time he stayed well away from the dragon and strummed the guitar. The dragon was killed for good. Tom went down. He took out a knife and cut the dragon's head off and he set off to show the king and collect his reward and he had his rock concert.
